

THE OLD PERSIAN - MODERN PERSIAN - ENGLISH
VISUAL DICTIONARY

Anton Kiseliov

Saint — Petersburg 2021

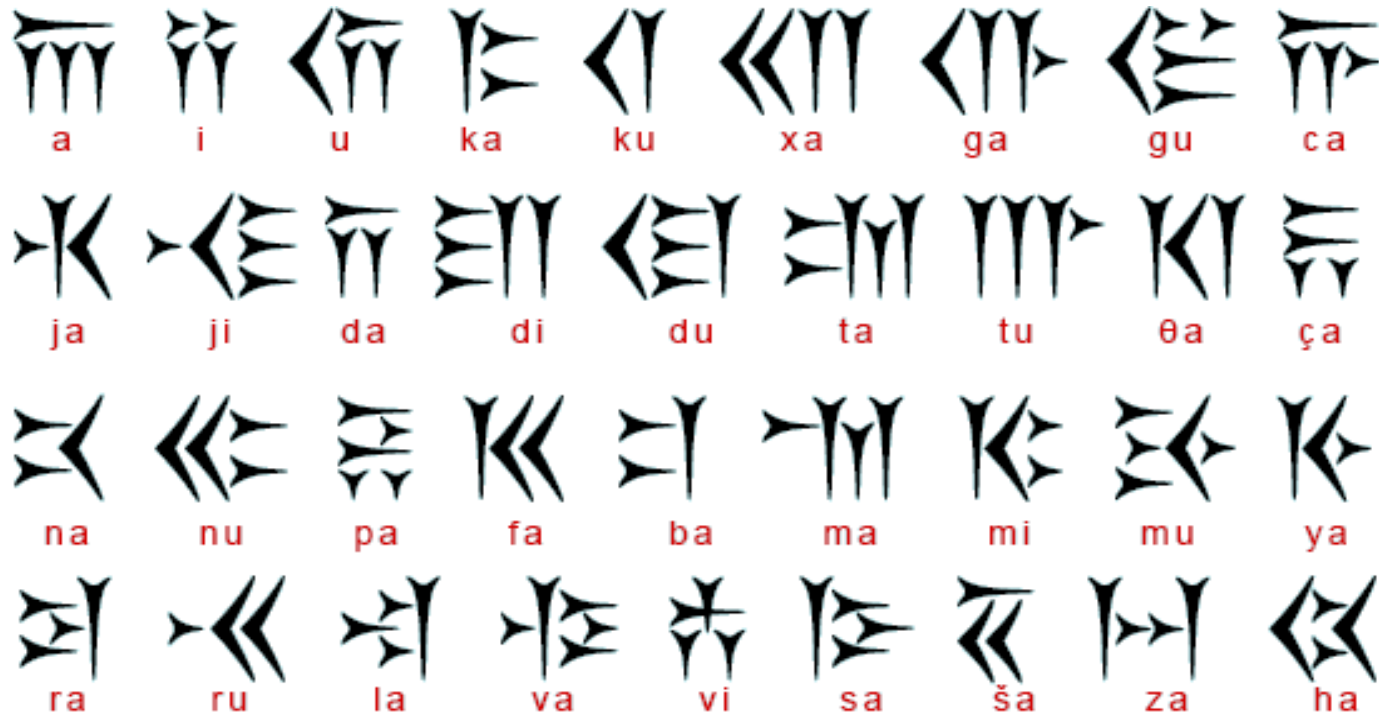

I'm very grateful to linguists
Mariya Bazhatarnik, Vladimir Shelestin and Aprim Tlat-Lishana
for their advice.

The Dictionary contains 250 “ethno-cultural” lexical cards. Each card includes the original Old Persian cuneiform spelling, its transcription, the Modern Persian and English translations.

The etymological transcription is preferred: e.g., tauhmā instead of taumā (“family”).

All the nouns are presented in the Nominative form. As to the verbs they are given in the Present stem.

The Old Persian Cuneiform

NB: c is read as [tʃ], ç as [s], š as [ʃ].

15. CALENDAR

The months of the Old Persian calendar don't correspond precisely to those of the modern Persian calendar but the beginning of the Year (called Nowruz) is common.
